

Project Description

---

Client: Joy, McCoola & Zilch

Project: Genesee Community College – Conable Technology Building

Services Performed:

While with another firm, James Kent, managed the preparation of the site and civil construction documents for the Conable Technology Building at Genesee Community College. The project included a revised loop road, revamped parking lots, a new parking lot, and a new plaza/quadrangle. The project was awarded the 2000 Design Merit Award by the American Institute of Architects.

